A black and white photograph of several large, fluted classical columns, likely from an ancient Greek or Roman temple. The columns are arranged in a row, receding into the distance. The lighting creates strong shadows and highlights the texture of the stone. A semi-transparent dark band is overlaid across the middle of the image, containing the title and subtitle text.

Pillars of Grant Writing

Know Thyself, Relationships, Writing

Know thyself

You, your team & your organization

Know Thyself

- What is your skillset - do you need help?
- Can your team execute the project you propose?
- What is your mandate?

Focus on getting paid for what you already

Do Well

Relationships

Funders, partners, and stakeholders

Still Calish

Relationships

- Talk to your funder - ask questions, for feedback, participate in info sessions
- Understand why your partners are involved & what they need from the project.
- Collaborations can be amazing!

"If you want to go fast, go alone.
If you want to go far, go together."

Writing

The fun! The agony.

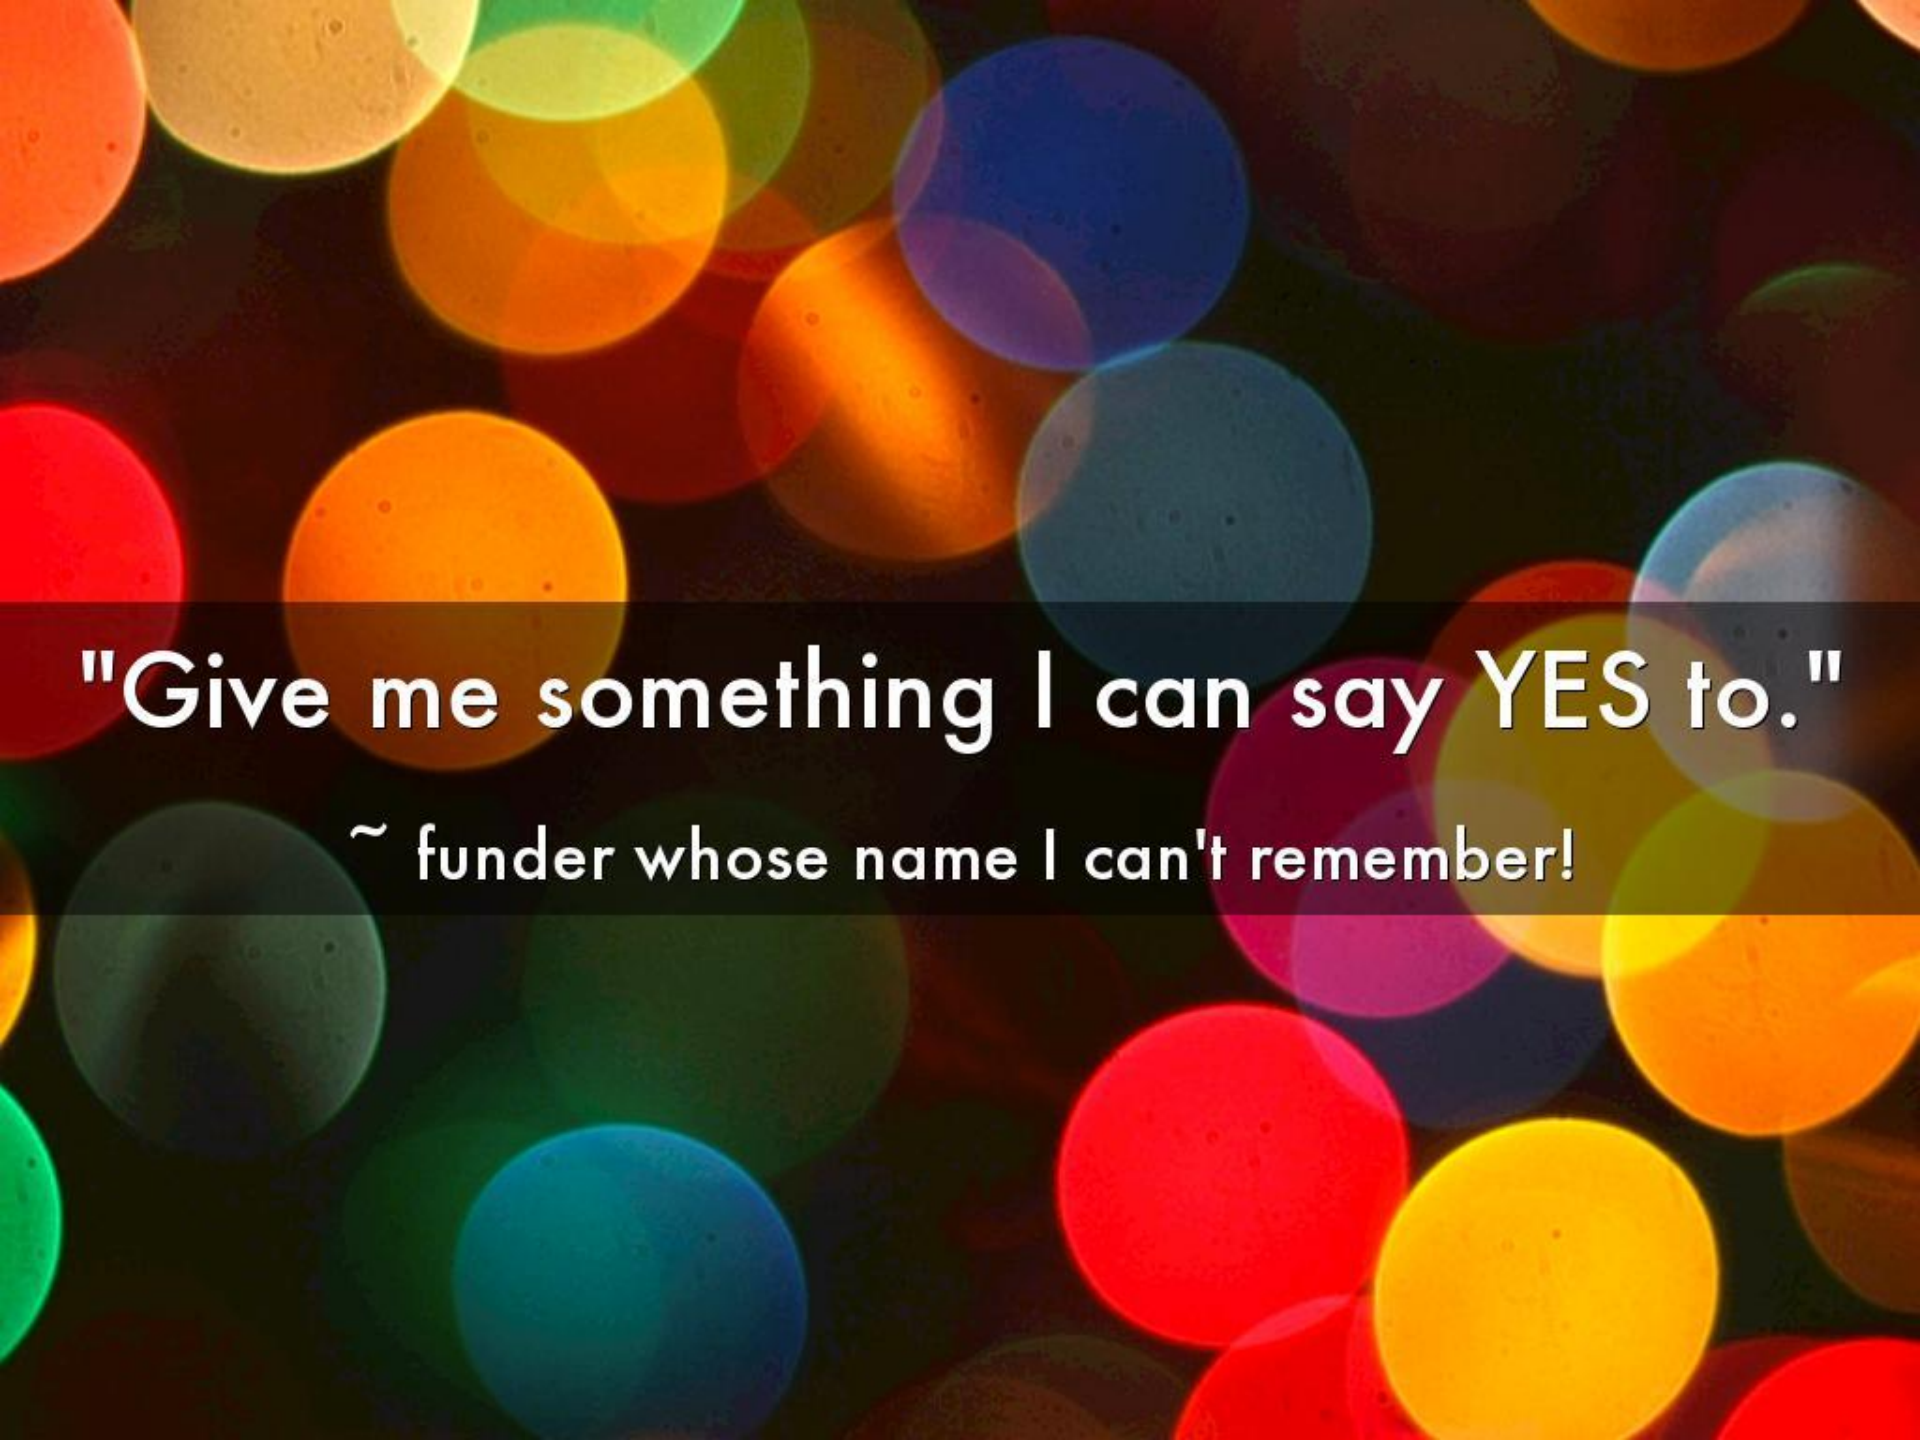

Writing your Proposal

- Read the application guide (several times)
- Don't procrastinate!
- Identify & approach potential partners early

Writing your proposal

- Enlist a buddy
- Get it clear in your own head (we all have our own process for this)
- Make sure your budget aligns with your activities
- Fully complete the application

The background of the slide is a dark, textured surface covered with numerous overlapping, out-of-focus circles in various colors including red, orange, yellow, green, blue, and purple, creating a bokeh effect.

"Give me something I can say YES to."

~ funder whose name I can't remember!
